JustCBD's Line of Vegan CBD Gummies May Help Alleviate Anxiety

Studies show the non-psychoactive CBD (Cannabidiol) compound from the cannabis plant can help people relax, adding demand for CBD Gummies.

JustCBD announces its new line of Vegan Hemp Gummies in five flavors. The Vegan CBD Gummies were created based on science indicating a natural alternative to prescription drugs to alleviate symptoms of anxiety and stress. According to the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA), subjects of ongoing studies were observed as having lower behavioral signs of anxiety and its associated physiological symptoms, such as increased heart rate, also improved.

"CBD is considered safe for most people and some animals and hemp-derived CBD is legal in all 50 states. With COVID-19 linked to an increase in depression and anxiety, our CBD Gummies line saw an increase in related sales. We decided to cater to our Vegan market and develop this product line to offer additional natural resources for those with increased anxiety, especially during today's uncertain culture," said a representative for JustCBD.
